Chairman's Report

This is my seventh Chairman's introduction to the Society's Schedule.

It becomes increasingly difficult to find something new to say about your Society.

I was thinking of the proposed consultation about the next person to be on the £20 bank note. It is to be a scientist. My view is that it should be Isaac Newton. It does not matter if he is not the greatest scientist England has produced. What justifies his selection is his humility. For he said that the work of scientists had progressed not from their own endeavours solely but from the work of others. "We stand on the shoulders of giants." His inspirational words apply to us all.

As usual it was the weather that decided what sort of year the Society enjoys. I noticed in a newspaper report that some parts of the United Kingdom are close to having frost free years. Here in Tottington we have already had some pretty sharp frosts this autumn. The year started with very cold weather to be followed by a long spell of very hot and very dry weather. One of my Bay trees was killed off by the drought having survived may years of icy blasts. This year there were no gladioli entered in the Autumn Show. The Plant Sale in June was a miserable day, but the forecast for a wet and cold day seemed to encourage people to come out early and by the middle of the day we had sold all our plants. I cannot recall this having happened before. It also shows the skill of the Committee Members who chose what plants to offer.

Last year I gave notice that your Society was going to set up a "Web Site". With the help of the Brothers Coldrick we have done just that. To find out what is happening just click "Tottington Horticultural Society" on a search engine and you will be directed to our site. Already it has all the 2019 dates of our shows, plant sale and talks.

Your Society has for many years supported local charities. During 2019 we shall support the Bury Blind Society.

I take this opportunity of thanking all those people who have made your Society so successful. Your committee. The people who help set up to and help run the plant sale and Shows. The exhibitors and Judges at the Shows. To those responsible for the "Web Site". To those who arrange, give and support our Talks.

I also record with great sadness the death during 2018 of the following Judges: Don Kershaw (Dahlias) who died in May. Colin Mitchell (Eggs) who died in September.

Alan Cooper (Wine) who also died in September.
